Discussion instructions

Prayer instructions

- For prayer cut the outline into ?8 sections? — one part per section (?section 6 has two parts?). Only use the first VII sections, not the rest; so there are eight parts total. Now put this outline on the screen and have each man chose a section for use as a prayer guide. The men may add details to their section from the Student Notes.

Practical assignments

- ?During? the Seminar have the men write down what monkeys they are feeding that are not their own. Have the men make 3 columns on their paper. On the left write the monkey they are feeding. In the middle write to whom that monkey belongs. On the right side make abbreviated notes on how to return that monkey
- Follow up this individual assignment with a group discussion. Men need to hear from each other! Men need each other's input, correction, and improved ideas. Be sure to boycott those men from the discussion if they did not fill out the 3 columns first. With love send those men on a meditation walk. That is not a punishment, that is their need. For the group discussion it is absolutely vital that you have active participants not loiterers. Loiterers destroy your group atmosphere and side track the discussions by unintelligent questions, simply because they are not ready. REMEMBER: 5 virgins and 5 other virgins. Make sense doesn't it?
